I've been studying the Spanish (Latin American) Pronunciation deck for ages and just noticed that the "What's the word mean" card for planet asks, "What's the word for this in Italian?" I had to take a double take but there it is! I have included a screen shot for you.	2017 or earlier	Not Fixed	Trainer was checked regarding this feedback, but the user feedback was deemed to be was mistaken, irrelevant, not worth fixing or already fixed. It appears the recording and words are mixed up for one of your cards for hearing the difference between "pino" and "vino".	2017 or earlier	Not Fixed	Trainer was checked regarding this feedback, but the user feedback was deemed to be was mistaken, irrelevant, not worth fixing or already fixed.	N/A
Today I noticed that the IPA for the word "pozo" on the minimal pairs card pozo/bozo is missing a dot "." to separate the syllables: 'poso	2017 or earlier	Fixed	N/A	N/A
The recording for minuto is very unclear.	2017 or earlier	Not Fixed	Trainer was checked regarding this feedback, but the user feedback was deemed to be was mistaken, irrelevant, not worth fixing or already fixed.	N/A
Yet another bad recording in the spanish words list: portátil -- i've noticed all the bad ones are one of the male speakers - I think the microphone is placed badly, as there's a lot of echo and distortion, and the sounds are clipped, partly his pronunciation and partly the quality of the recordings. i know some spaniards pronounce like that, but I don't think it's helpful for new learners. i'm going to stop sending you emails on these - but I suggest you go through all the recordings by that spanish man and consider redoing them - the woman's pronunciation and recording are very clear, also the other man's are good (I think I hear at least two different male voices)	2017 or earlier	Not Fixed	Trainer was checked regarding this feedback, but the user feedback was deemed to be was mistaken, irrelevant, not worth fixing or already fixed. Get rid of venado entirely. It's just one of the example words at the end, which are pretty low priority (and we have 84 of them and we generally only want around 80, anyways). If this is also the case for Spanish (Latin America), let's get rid of it there, too	2/20/18	Fixed	N/A	N/A
Just wanted to report some apostrophe errors i have notice in this ANKI card set for learning pronunciation but also for learning spelling. Note these are in the version where you add in the spelling	3/15/18	Not Fixed	Trainer was checked regarding this feedback, but the user feedback was deemed to be was mistaken, irrelevant, not worth fixing or already fixed.
